1 POLICY

Newly hired employees will be provided with orientation and onboarding designed to familiarize them with the institution and to effectively orient them to their new roles and responsibilities.

New employees will be subject to the policies and procedures of CMCC, which may be amended from time to time at CMCC's discretion. It is a requirement that employees become familiar with CMCC's policies and procedures within their first month of employment.

2 PURPOSE

To ensure new employees are provided with the information they need with respect to their working environment and to ensure they are integrated in a manner that generates a positive and lasting employment relationship.

3 SCOPE

All Employees

4 INFORMATION AND COMPLIANCE PLANS (not a comprehensive list)

HR will conduct the orientation at the scheduled date, ensuring all necessary paperwork is completed, and information including policies, organizational structure, and any mandated training is outlined with deadlines set for completion within one month of employment. Activities will be tracked by HR as indicated in the New Hire Checklist.

Managers are responsible for developing and providing an effective departmental onboarding program for a newly hired employee, and for ensuring that any training deemed necessary is scheduled and/or provided.

6 DEFINITIONS

Orientation is the initial stage of onboarding during which new employees learn about the institution and its policies and procedures. Typically, orientation:

- occurs within the first day of employment
- familiarizes new hires with the resources available to them
- is executed by the Division of Human Resources
- addresses both the employees' and the organization's needs
- is focused on completing paperwork and any mandated training requirements

Onboarding is the process of bringing employees into their new organization and roles to ensure that they have what they need to be successful, in the shortest amount of time. Typically, onboarding:

- starts before the first day and continues through the first year
- is executed by managers
- integrates multiple offices, functions and individuals
- addresses employees' needs
- maximizes employee engagement and retention.
